

Cultural Detective Notebook

Name of my book:

What is something that people do in the story that is different from your life?

What is something that people do in the story that is similar to your life?

Why do you think that people live this way in the story?

What is something that you admire about the people in the story?